

Fashion and fundraising intersect in Seattle

Gift for Life is proud to announce we've been named the beneficiary of the Runway Fashion Show and Wine & Cheese Tasting event slated for Fashion Week during the Winter Gift and Home Accessories Show in Seattle. The event will be held on Thursday, February 3 from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the Pacific Market Center.

Are you a buyer planning to attend the Seattle show? If so, you're invited to see the hottest trends during a live runway show and then take center stage with a red carpet photo opportunity. Sample wines and cheeses from Washington's premier vineyards and cheesemakers while participating in a raffle to win an accessories display and other great prizes. A suggested $10 donation will benefit Gift For Life and DIFFA (sponsored by Schott Zwiesel and Grand and Benedicts Store Fixtures).

According to Lisa Goodman, Director of Marketing for the Pacific Market Center and Gift For Life Board Member, "Heads are going to turn as we produce a high-energy Market event combining fashion, food, fun and fundraising. We look forward to a great crowd and tremendous support."

"We are honored to help make this event a great success," said Jenny Hammons, retiring chair of the Gift For Life board and president of Jenny Hammons Company. "The Pacific Market Center is creating new opportunities for buyers to enjoy their buying trip and to support an industry charity that makes a difference in Seattle and across the U.S."

This is sure to be a hit...and a blast, so if you're in the area, be sure to add it to the schedule. For additional info, check out the Pacific Market Center website.
